Here there is danger of setting the standard of requirements too low A larger infusion of the literary element into this new school seems desirable. The course is now limited to three years. Perhaps, as the standard of culture rises, a fourth may be added for the more complete study of English philology and literature, together with rhearing political accounts and matchings. The study of English philology and interature, together with rhetoric, political economy and metaphysics. The school, thus far, has met the most sanguine expectations of its friends. This year presents to the public its first fruits. A class of four will reserve, at the approaching commencement, the degree of "Bachelor "of Science." The middle and junior classes contain about thirty members in all. The instruction is chiefly given by the Professors of the College. This school, therefore, offers inducements to young men who wish to secure a practical education, far above those pre Division of labor always produces superior tact and skill. INDEX.

TEXAS .- ARMY MOVEMENTS.

As it may prove interesting to your readers, I send you the following order from General Smith, which has jus-been received here, with regard to the movement o HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF TEXAS, ? Corpus Christi, June 18, 1854.

By order of Byt. Major General Smith. ACFRED Grass, Brevet Capt. Assistant Adjutant-General.

EL PASO.

Gen. Garland is now at El Paso, accompanied by his aid Lieut. J. I. Garland, Capt. J. C. Easton, of the Quartermaster a Department, and Maj. F. A. Cunningham, of the Paymaster's Department.

An Express was received from Santa Fe by Gen. Garland, a few days before the mail left, stating that a number of very serious depredations had been committed by the Indians in the neighborhood of Anton Chico, and in other portions of the upper part of New-Mexico. Secretary Messry had made a call, in the absence of Gov. Merriwether, for four hundred volunteers. In consequence of this, Gen. G. and staff were to leave immediately for Santa Fe, with a view of superintending the movement of troops in that quarter.

Poliett, 8th infanity, left on the 24th May, in command of "B" company of Fort Bliss, in pursance of an order directing him to proceed to Eagle Springs, 122 miles from El Paso, on the road to San Antonio, and remain there until further orders.

Considering the boldness of late manifested by the Indians in that quarter, I regard this as a very judicious movement.

One-half of the command stationed at Fort Fillmore. Fort Thorn and Fort Craig, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for the field at a moment's waraing. Gen. Gariand states that he has received reliable information that a large number of Mescaleras and Apaches have congregated at a place called "Busque Redondo," on the Pecos River, and from orders received he thinks it is in contemplation to throw a large number of troops in the field in that quarter.

Mrs. Wilson, who was captured by the Camanchos last fall, and in regard to whom so much interest was excited, was in El Paso. She was brought down from Santa Feby Gen. Gariand. She was sent by Secretary Messery, acting Governor, in the absence of Gov. Morriwether, to the care of the Hon. J. F. Crosby, to be forwarded by the first convenient opportunity to her friends.

Semuel C. Humes, sutler at Fort Washita, Chickasaw Nation, states that one of the brothers-in-law, George Washington Wilson, aged 12 years, had been brought into that port by Aaron Brown, a Chickasaw, who purchased him from the Camanches, while out trading with them. He also states that a boy had been parchased by some friendly Instans from the Camanches, and brought into warded to their friends.

Messiz, Edwards and Pyson left El Paso on the 27th May for California, with their drove of cattle. They were getting along very well.

TRIAL OF THE REV. JOSETH R. JOHNSON.—The Court Room was densely crowded every day last week, notwithstanding the extremely hot weather, with anxious listoners to the testimony in the case of the People against Joseph R. Johnson, late a Baptist clergyman of Saugerties, who had been indicted for drowning his wife and child in the Ecopus Creek. The prosecution first called Edward Simpson as a witness, who testified that he saw Johnson, wife and two children start in the fore past of August last in a row-boat, at 2 or 3 o clock in the afternoon, and go up the Ecopus Creek. He also saw Mrs. Johnson and the child brought home dead in the same boat at 7 o clock the same evening. Next came Abram H. and Andrew B. Wolven and Peter T. Overbagh, who successively testified as to the finding of the bodies of Mrs. Johnson and child, the pesition of the boat containing the little girl, and the appearance and conduct of Johnson. The evidence of those witnesses is detailed at great length. The evidence in the whole case is very minute and tedions.

In consequence of the sickness of one of the Jurors the Court was obliged to adjourn on Satarday morning. The case will probably occupy this week.

MARINE AFFAIRS. THE FRANKLIN AGAIN.

From Our Own Reporter. MORICHES, Wednesday, July 26, 1854. During Monday 140 packages of cargo were taken out of the steamship Franklin; yesterday 160 more were landed. At the present time between 400 and 500 packages are all that remain on board. All day yesterday there was a heavy sea on, and the wind blew strong from S. S. W. The seas now strike the steamer broadside without slipping, and so violent are the concussions that the wreckers cannot, without great effort, keep to their feet upon her deck.

All last night the wind blew a gale, howling and shricking along the shore, more like November than July, and

This morning a very heavy sea breaks over the ship, and as thousands of tune of water strike against her side. she seems to leap out of the water. The wreakers are at work, but are not expected to accomplish much to-day, as violent are the shocks which the vessel sustains. She is hadly strained aft her mainmast, and forward. listed very much off shere. On her port side she is more than thirty-two inches out of line, and just abaft her foremast her deck is humped like a huge camel's back. Her hold is full of water, and her machinery, frame and all, works to and fro and every way some fifteen inches. At the time I write it lacks two hours of high tide, and yet the sea makes tremendous breaches over her.

the sea is breaking over the outer bar. Two days ago you might walk on board her dry-shod; now a deep gulley runs alongside of her in-shore, and at lew water she can only be reached by means of a boat. The approach to her is so dangerous that oars cannot be used, and the aurf-bont has to be hauled back and forth by means of rope, and the ship boarded by clambering up the spokes of her paddle-wheel. Two of the boatmen thought to wade ashore yesterday but where it had been shallow but a short time previous, the sea had cut out the sand, and they got caugh by the undertow. The consequence was they were carried out to the stern of the ship, and but for the timely assistance of a plank lashed to a rope they would have been borne out to sea, and inevitably drowned.

Capt. Bell, the famous wrecker, was here this morning, to see what could be done to save the ship. In his opinion the hip cannot stand long against the sea that is now on; and he says the only way to save her is to get a purchase ashere, and carry an anchor out toward the outer bar, and so warp her head off shore, so as to break writers in sending so many steamers and schooners here that could render no possible assistance. The agents on the beach and all engaged here have toiled nobly and unremittingly, and, so far as I have seen, there have been no esible grounds for censure.

The Navy Department is shipping boys to the United States razee Independence, now fitting at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for the Pacific. About forty of the juveniles, States razee Independence, now fitting at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for the Pacific. About forty of the juveniles, whose ages vary from fourteen to seventeen years, are already on board of the receiving ship North Carolina. The total number of recruits on the ship vesterday was four hundred. Numerous applications are daily received from parents for the enlistment of their sons in the service, Making sailors of boys seems to meet the approbation of the naval and mercantile marine. The Independence will probably be ready for sea in two weeks.

The fittle side-wheel steamer Vixen, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, has been taken out of commission. She had been fully equipped for sea, and was ready to said. Her officers were appointed a few days ago, and her destination was supposed to be the West Indies. During yesterday afternoon her stores were removed from on board in small boats, and the steamer placed in ordinary. It is rumored that Secretary Dobbin has appointed a commission of officers at Washington to exacine into the report relative to the last trial of the steamer Princeton. It is thought that the Navy Department will finally decide to sell the steamer, as she is unfit for war purposes.

The Sandy Hook light boat, built by Mr. Hood, has been accepted by the Treasury Department. She is now in the naval dry dock undergoing some alterations, preparatory to taking her place at Sandy Hook.

Teams are at work hunling live onk timber to the house for the construction of the new steam frigate. Mr. George Steers, however, has not made his appearance at the yard for some time past.

The following account of the shooting of Craig, the prosecutor, who was keeper of the penitentiary during the respectation of Miss Webster, we find in The Madison

The violation of the laws of the State of Indiana by Craig and his contrades, in wearing concealed weapons, in flourishing them before the eyes of quiet, order-loving citizens, with slight or no provocation, their bonstings of their Kentucky power, their expressed contempt for Hooshiers, and their course charges of abolitionism and nigger-stealing upon the people of our City and State, caused some excitement upon the landing yesterday evening, which resulted in the whipping of the negro drivers who accompanied Craig as witnesses or friends, and the shooting of Craig by a Kentuckian, who, we believe, lives or did live on the place Miss Webster owns over the river, until he was driven off by Craig. This mannhas been arrested, and is now in the hands of the law.

We have not a word to say of his guilt or innocence, but the shooting of Craig from behind was a dastardly act, and as there are no Hardin county juries in Indiana, the perpetrator is not likely to escape. Craig was shot about an hour after he attempted to draw a weapon on a citizen.

The ball entered the back of Craig, between the shoulders, inflicting a dangerous but not necessarily a mortal wound. After the shooting, he was conveyed to the residence of Gen. Stapp, where the wound was probed and dressed by Dr. Davidson.

Randail, arrested on charge of shooting Craig, was a laborer on Miss Webster's place across the river, for about a year. He has heretofore complained of much abuse received from Craig and his sympathizers, having been by them drivex away from his employer's premises, as he alleges. If he committed the not with which he is charged, the provocation may be found in these former transactions.

A BOAT UPSET AT NAHANT.

Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune NABANT, Saturday, July, 22, 1854. The world at NAHANT was yesterday thrown into great confusion, and some part of it into alarm, by disllowing seaward, and the waves dashing furiously against the rock on either side. One elderly gentleman offered a large sum of money for their safety, and sent over to the other side of the point for a yacht to go to their aid. In a few minutes, however, Mr. James E. Stevens manned the life-boat, which is always kept in readiness, and it rapidly approached the point of danger, and at 44 o'clock the two persons were taken from the water in an exhausted and almost lifeless condition, and brought to the Hotel, where the weaker of the two remained last night in a precarious condition; but is now rapidly recuperating.

Altray.—A scrious row occurred in Main-st, on Saturday night. On the occasion of a wedding a number of Germans were collected at a house between Beaver and Cannon-its. The festivities were kept up until a late hour—the party being in a room on the third story. Between 11 and 12 o'clock, several of those present went down to the street door for the purpose of breathing the fresh air. While there they were suddenly attacked by a party of Irishmen who came up the street. It shas not fresh air. While there they were suddenly attacked by a party of Irishmen who came up the street. It does not appear that any provocation was given, and it would seem that the attack was premediated. The Germans attempted to c-cepe into the house, but it is said that the door having a string lock, was accidentally closed and they could not get in. A severe fight took place and brickbats were freely used. One of the Germans had his skull fractured, and received a stab. Four or five of his companions were more or less highered. The party within soon helped their friends into the house under a five of brickbats. The noise and the cries of the man who was severely wounded, aroused the neighberhood. The bystanders caught the murderer, called a conneil of the best citizens of the Island, and took a vote whether to hang him on the nearest free or give him up to the law. A largo majority were for hanging him forthwith, but by the interference of Mr. Ashby, were persuaded to give him up to the tender mer ies of the law. The matter has to be decided by the United States Cheuir Court for the Southern District of New-York, in ninety days after the close of the trial, on a case stated. No judgment has yet been rendered by the Court to the knowledge of any of the Government officers. Since Collier's arrest by the Marshal of Ohio under the penal clause of the Sub-Treasury act, his sureties have paid into the Treasury on account of his inhebtedness to the Government $100,000, which leaves his account very different from its condition when the suit above referred to was commenced. BURGLARY AND ARREST.—During Tuesday night the house of Mr.D. Shoemaker, et. of First and South First-sts, was burglariously entered and about $30 was stolen from the sleeping apartment of Mr. S. Yesterday afternoon a boy named Fred. Topley, who has been several times before the Court, was arrested and locked up on suspicion of being the thief.

ANOTHER ELOPENEST.—An elopement took place in Williamsburgh on Monday night last. The parties moved in fashionable circles. The lady is almost 30 years of ago, beautiful, and the wife of a merchant doing business in New-York. The gentleman resided up-town in New-York and had been in the habit of visiting the lady fair for some time previous to the elopeme t while the confiding husband was attending to his business pursuits.

FUNERAL PROCESSIONS,-The Common Council have FIGURE AL PROCESSIONS.—The Common Council many pursued an ordinance, prohibiting persons driving carriages or hearses connected with funeral processions passing from the ferries, to make a stop in any of the streets, under a penalty of ten dollars.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—Before Judge WOODROFF, CIT FOR ALLEADED SLANDER—MOTION TO AMAND ANSWER. Junes W. L. Gridley aget Almer A. Pund. To recover damages for alleged slander, in saying that

To recover damages for alleged slander, in saying that plaintiff stole certain money, and using various expressions to that effect, such as "it lies between Jem and Grid"ley, and Gridley has got the money," I believe Grid'ley has got the money, "Gridley stole the money,"
I suppose the book-keeper plaintiff stole the money,
'Gridley knows where the money is.

In the answer it is said that defendant is keeper of the St. Louis Hotel: that plaintiff was clerk and book-keeper, and as such received from Henry Wilson, a boarder and guest, about $550 in money for safe keeping, which money he ought immediately afterward to have delivered to defendant, greeably to general direction, but instead of so delivering the same, the plaintiff did not deliver it to defendant or to any other person authorized to receive it, but stole and embezzled the same, and converted the same to his own use, &c. Wherefore, if at all, defendant space to his own use, &c. Wherefore, if at all, defendant spoke the words alluded to, as he lawfully might for the causes decisions in this state is that effect, to say that when a defendant is called upon to answer on onth, he must, is to see, a time what he believes to be untrue, funds, the rule of the Code that what is not denied in the answer is to be deemed admitted, or be precluded from showing the truth of the words which he is charged with speaking, but in the form in which the present answer is prepared. I think the employment of terms which exclude admissions are objectionable, and the answer must in this respect be amended. It is also wrong to set up the facts intended to be proved, both as constituting their and embezzlement. Embezzlement is not thost, and should not be pleased as a justification of a charge of stealing. So far as the defendant relies upon facts amounting to larcene, they may all be set up as a justification to all the words alleged. In this respect the answer should be amended.

cation to all the words alleged. In this respect the answer should be amended.

In the portion as to mitigation, the hypothetical words if at all, as to speaking the words, is liable to the same objection, if intended in the mature of a plea in bar, but this is not so, but rather in the nature of a plea in bar, but this is not so, but rather in the nature of a notice under the former general issue to apprise as to the evidence. It can therefore remain till the trial, when the nature of proof offered in mitigation will be passed upon. Although it may be doubted whether the matter thus set up in mitigation does not in some slight degree tend to show the truth of the words spoken; it does not show the truth of them so as to impute crime, and there is doubt if it will be of any avail to defendant on the trial. The motion being granted in part and denied in part, no costs will be allowed to either party upon this motion.

RINGS CO. COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—Before Judgs Moork and Justices Stituwill and Stavkar.

Yesterday Thomas Conner, impleaded with Charles McGlone, theretofore convicted, James Ryan and James O Neil, on an indictment for highway robbery, was placed on trial. From the evidence of John Nelson, the compaining witness, it appeared that on his return to his heme in Brooklyn on the night of the Joth of April last, he was attacked by about nine persons, among whom were defendants, near the corner of Court and Bergen-sts. He had in his cost-pecket a bottle of whistly which they took, and, letting hos go, they again attacked him, when one of the party ritted his pockets of $6.03, his week's wages and all the money he had. Several officers of the Third District Police came up at this time and arrested them. These faces being proved, the case was given to the Jury, who, after a short absence, returned with a verifict of guilty of assault and battery. James Ryan and James O Neil pleaded guilty to the same charge, which was accepted, and they were sentenced to the penituatiary for ten monains each. Medione, although indicted on the same charge, was convicted of highway rabberty, and was sentenced to the penituation for the term of ten years. The Court intimated that an endeavor would be made to have the sentence commuted, and the prisoner will therefore be confined in the County Jail until the proper reprehave the sentence commuted, and the prisoner will there-fore be confined in the County Jail until the proper repre-sentations can be made to the Governor.

RECENT DEATHS.

The Late Ex-Senator Roberts.—The Hon. Jonath in Roberts died at Upper Marion township, Montgomery Co., Pa., on the 20th inst., aged 84. The deceased for many years occupied a prominent position in the politics of Pennsylvania. He was successively a member of the House of Representatives of the State and United States. He was a member of the United States Senate when the Missouri Compromise bill was passed. He at one time was Canal Commissioner, and was an early and energetic friend to internal improvements. The last office he held was that of the Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, to which he was appointed by Gen. Harrison. The deceased was a man of vigorous intellect, strict integrity of purpose, and great decision of character. Those characteristics, with a large fund of information and a considerable command of language, made him a prominent individual in whatever station he was placed. He was a Democrat of the old school, and like many of the ablest and best of that school discarded the self-styled democracy of the present day.

AN OLD VETERAN GONE.—Died at Cohasset, July 15, Mr. John Thomas, 85 years of age. Mr. Thomas was one of the old stock. In early life he was apprenticed to the sailmaker who made the Constitution's first suit of sails. A deal of rivalry was manifested at the time they were made as to who should take the first stitch. Mr. Thomas's master had made arrangements to obtain that honor himself, but young John by an ariful trick superseded his master and took the first stitch that was ever taken in the Constitution's sails. Mr. Thomas was a genuine native, and had tion swills. Mr. Thomas was a genuine native, and had two sons in the services of his country, one of whom was in the battle of Lundy's Lane. At the time of his death he was the oldest salimaker in this part of the country, and was much respected by his brothers of the craft, by whom he was familiarly called Father Thomas.
